- (c) Information of the previous performance of a Financial Instrument does not guarantee its current and/or future performance. The use of historical data does not constitute a binding or safe forecast as to the corresponding future performance of the Financial Instruments to which the said information refers.
- (d) The Client is hereby advised that the transactions undertaken through the dealing services of iFOREX may be of a speculative nature. Large losses may occur in a short period of time.
- (e) Some Financial Instruments may not become immediately liquid as a result for example of reduced demand and the Client may not be in a position to sell them or easily obtain information on the value of these Financial Instruments or the extent of the associated risks.
- (f) When a Financial Instrument is traded in a currency other than the currency of the Client's country of residence, any changes in the exchange rates may have a negative effect on its value, price and performance.
- (g) A Financial Instrument on foreign markets may entail risks different to the usual risks of the markets in the Client's country of residence. In some cases, these risks may be greater. The prospect of profit or loss from transactions on foreign markets is also affected by exchange rate fluctuations.
- (h) A Derivative Financial Instrument (i.e. option, future, forward, swap, CFD, NDF) may be a non-delivery spot transaction giving an opportunity to make profit on changes in currency rates, commodity, stock market indices or share prices called the underlying instrument. The value of the Derivative Financial Instrument may be directly affected by the price of the relevant underlying instrument.

- (k) Under certain market conditions it may be difficult or impossible to execute an order.
- (l) A Bank or Broker through whom iFOREX may deal with could have interests contrary to the Client's interests.
- (m) The Client's attention is expressly drawn to currencies traded so irregularly or infrequently that it cannot be certain that a price will be quoted at all times or that it may be difficult to effect transactions at a price which may be quoted owing to the absence of a counter party.

- (n) Trading on-line, no matter how convenient or efficient, does not necessarily reduce risks associated with currency trading.
- (o) There may be situations, movements and/or conditions occurring at weekend, in the beginning of week or intra-day after release of significant macroeconomic figures, economic or political news that make currency markets to open with price levels that may substantially differ from previous prices. In this case, there exists a significant risk that orders issued to protect open positions and open new positions may be executed at prices significantly different from those designated.
- (p) There is a risk that the Client's trades in Financial Instruments may be or become subject to tax and/or any other duty for example because of changes in legislation or his personal circumstances. iFOREX does not warrant that no tax and/or any other stamp duty will be payable. The Client should be responsible for any taxes and/or any other duty which may accrue in respect of his trades.
- (q) Before the Client begins to trade, he should obtain details of all commissions and other charges for which the Client will be liable. If any charges are not expressed in money terms (but for example as a dealing spread), the Client should ask for a written explanation, including appropriate examples, to establish what such charges are likely to mean in specific money terms.
- (r) iFOREX may be required to hold the Client's money in an account that is segregated from other clients and iFOREX's money in accordance with current regulations, but this may not afford complete protection.

Risk Disclosure and Warnings Notice relating to Transactions in CFDs

1. Risks Particularly Associated with Transactions in CFDs

All Clients wishing to invest in Contracts for Differences (CFDs) should carefully read this document. However, it is noted that the information in this document cannot and do not disclose or explain all of the risks and other significant aspects involved in dealing in CFDs. The Client should be aware of all the risks associated with trading on margin, and seek advice and consultation from an independent financial advisor if he/she has any doubts. iFOREX does not provide such advice. If the Client does not understand the risks involved in trading in CFDs, he/she should not trade at all.

It is emphasized that for many members of the public dealings in CFDs will not be appropriate. The Client should not engage in any dealings directly or indirectly in CFDs unless he/she knows and understands the features risks involved in them and that he/she may lose entirely all of his/she's money.

1.1 The Client is warned of the following risks:

- (a) CFDs are derivative financial instruments, where their price is derived from the price of the underlying instrument to which the CFDs refer (for example currency, commodities, stocks, metals, indices etc). Derivative financial instruments and related markets can be highly volatile. The prices of CFDs and the underlying instrument may fluctuate rapidly and over wide ranges and may reflect unforeseeable events or changes in conditions, none of which can be controlled by the Client or iFOREX. Under certain market conditions it may be impossible for a Client's order to be executed at declared price leading to losses. The prices of CFDs will be influenced by, amongst other things, changing supply and demand relationships, governmental, agricultural, commercial and trade programs and policies, national and international political and economic events and the prevailing psychological characteristics of the relevant market place.
- (b) Some of the CFDs underlying instruments may not become immediately liquid as a result of reduced demand for the underlying instrument and Client may not be able to obtain the information on the value of these or the extent of the associated risks.
- (c) Trading in CFDs is speculative and involves a high degree of risk. In particular because it will be conducted using a margin (which covers only a small percentage of the value of the underlying asset being traded), as such, even small price changes in the underlying assets/products of CFDs can result in significant losses. You should be aware that by trading with CFDs and forex you may lose the margin held at iFOREX that serves for the purposes of collateral for opening and maintaining your trading positions.
- (d) Therefore, trading in forex and CFDs is appropriate only for persons who: (a) understand and are willing to assume the economic, legal and other risks involved in such transactions; and (b) are financially able to withstand losses of their initial margin funds and any additional funds transferred to iFOREX to maintain their positions.

- (e) When you engage in CFDs trading you are placing a trade in relation to movements of prices set by iFOREX. Prices quoted to you by iFOREX will include a spread, mark-up, or mark-down when compared to prices that iFOREX may receive or expect to receive if it were to cover transactions with you by a trade in the interbank market or with another counterparty. Be advised that the total impact of spreads may be significant in relation to the size of the margin you post and may make it more difficult for you to realize a profit from your trading. You should carefully consider the effect of spreads, mark-ups, or mark-downs on your ability to profit from trading.
- (f) The “gearing” or “leverage” available in CFDs and spot forex trading (i.e. the funds iFOREX requires you to provide when a position is opened compared to the notional size of trade you can enter into) means that a small margin deposit can lead to large losses as well as gains. It also means that a relatively small movement can lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the size of any loss or profit which can work against you as well as for you.
- (g) You may lose all amounts you deposit with iFOREX as margin. The placing of certain orders (e.g. “stop-loss” or “limit” orders) that are intended to limit losses to certain amounts may not always be effective because market conditions or technological limitations may make it impossible to execute such orders. Please also note that for all orders you may sustain the loss (which your order is intended to limit) in a short period of time. In other cases the execution of a Stop Loss Order may be worse than its stipulated price and the realized losses can be larger than expected.
- (h) You unreservedly acknowledge and accept that, regardless of any information which may be offered by iFOREX, the value of any investment in financial instruments may fluctuate downwards or upwards and it is even probable that you may lose all the money that you deposited.
- (i) You have to pay to iFOREX all losses you sustain as well as all other amounts payable under the terms and conditions for CFDs trading. If you decide to engage in CFDs and/or forex trading, you must accept this degree of risk.
- (j) CFDs Transactions have a contingent liability, and the Client should be aware of the implications of this in particular the margining requirements of iFOREX. Clients are required to deposit funds in their trading account in order to open a position. The Margin requirement will depend on the underlying instrument of the CFDs. Margin requirements can be fixed or calculated from current price of the underlying instrument, it can be found on the website of iFOREX.
- (k) Should the margin capital be insufficient to hold current positions open, the Client may be asked to deposit additional funds at short notice or reduce exposure. Failure to do so in the time required may result in the liquidation of positions at a loss and the Client will be liable for any resulting deficit. With regards to transactions in CFDs, iFOREX has the discretionary right to automatically close all positions at market prices if margin level drops below 0%.

Tel: +35725204600 | Fax: +35725204607 | www.iforex.com.cy

- (l) Transactions in CFDs are not undertaken on a recognized or designated investment exchange but they are undertaken through iFOREX's trading systems whereby execution is effected via iFOREX and, accordingly, they may expose the Client to greater risks than exchange transactions. While some off-exchange markets are highly liquid, transactions in off-exchange or non transferable derivatives may involve greater risk than investing in on-exchange derivatives because there is no exchange market on which to close out an Open Position. It may be impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value of the position arising from an off-exchange transaction or to assess the exposure to risk. Bid prices and Ask prices need not be quoted, and, even where they are, they will be established by the counterparty in these instruments and consequently it may be difficult to establish what is a fair price.
- (m) You can only engage in CFDs and/or forex trading with iFOREX in currencies, commodities and indexes that are offered by iFOREX. iFOREX does not undertake to continue to offer all such currencies, indexes and/or commodities. The markets iFOREX offers (and its prices) are derived from underlying prices quoted in the interbank market or other recognized markets for such currencies and/or commodities. iFOREX has no control over movements in the underlying prices which may be volatile and unpredictable. Those movements will affect iFOREX's prices, whether or not you can open or close a position and the price at which you can do so.
- (n) iFOREX may have access to information that is not available to you, may have acquired trading positions at prices that are not available to you, and may have interests different from your interests. iFOREX does not undertake any obligation to provide you with market or other information we possess, nor to alter or refrain from our own trading.
- (o) iFOREX does not and cannot guarantee the initial capital of your portfolio or its value at any time or any money invested in any financial instrument.
- (p) Information of the previous performance of a CFD or of any underlying asset of a CFD does not guarantee its current and/or future performance. The use of historical data does not constitute a binding or safe forecast as to the corresponding future performance of the CFD to which the information refers.
- (q) Some CFDs may not become immediately liquid and as a result you may not be in a position to sell them or easily obtain information on the value of these CFDs or the extent of the associated risks.

Risks Associated with Binary Options

All Clients wishing to invest in Binary Options should carefully read this document. However, it should be noted that the information in this document cannot and does not disclose or explain all of the risks and other significant aspects involved in dealing in Binary Options.

The Client should not trade or invest in Binary Options unless he/she knows and understands the features risks involved and that he/she may lose entirely all of his/her money.

Binary Options are options that pay a pre-determined, fixed amount, depending on whether or not an event occurs at the time the Binary Option expires. Binary Options can have only one of two possible outcomes and allow you to take a simple “Yes or No” approach. Like traditional options, Binary Options are based on an underlying asset such as currencies, commodities, indexes or stocks, however one of the most significant differences from traditional options, among others, is that there can be only two outcomes for the option, either the client is paid the return upon the occurrence of the event, or the client loses the investment amount as determined in each option.

Trading in Binary Options is speculative and involves a high degree of risk that can result in the loss of your entire investment. Therefore, trading in Binary Options is appropriate only for persons that understand and are willing to assume the economic, legal and other risks involved in such transactions. You should be satisfied that Binary Options trading is suitable for you in light of your financial circumstances and attitude towards risk before trading. You should not engage in speculative Binary Options trading unless you understand the basic aspects of such trading and its risks. If you are in any doubt as to whether Binary Option trading is appropriate and suitable for you, please seek independent advice from a financial consulting professional. iFOREX does not provide such advice.

It is your responsibility, taking into account your personal circumstances and financial resources, to take particular care and make careful considerations independently, both prior to applying to engage in Binary Options with the Company, as well as prior to making any individual order. Where you do not understand the risks involved in applying for a trading account with iFOREX or in making any individual order, you should seek advice and consultation from an independent Financial Advisor. If you continue to not understand the risks involved in trading in Binary Options, you should not trade at all.

You are advised that the Binary Options offered by the Company are not traded under the rules of any recognized, designated or regulated exchange. Consequently, engaging in Binary Option trading may expose you to substantially greater risks than investments which are so traded.

You are warned of the following risks:

- (a) Derivative financial instruments and related markets can be highly volatile. The prices of the underlying instrument which a Binary Options refers to may fluctuate rapidly and over wide ranges and may reflect unforeseeable events or changes in conditions, none of which can be controlled by the Client or iFOREX.

- (b) Trading in Binary options is speculative and involves a high degree of risk. In particular because it involves in two possible outcomes, one of them may include the loss of the entire investment amount.
- (c) Trading in Binary Options is appropriate only for persons who: (a) understand and are willing to assume the economic, legal and other risks involved in such transactions; and (b) are financially able to withstand losses of their entire investment funds.
- (d) iFOREX makes efforts that the quoted prices of each underlying asset that a Binary Option refers to will be reasonably related to the actual prices of such asset available in the market. iFOREX makes no warranty, expressed or implied, that the quoted prices represent prevailing market prices.
- (e) iFOREX may have access to information that is not available to you, may have acquired trading positions at prices that are not available to you, and may have interests different from your interests. iFOREX does not undertake any obligation to provide you with market or other information we possess, nor to alter or refrain from our own trading.
- (f) Information of the previous performance of any underlying asset does not guarantee its current and/or future performance. The use of historical data does not constitute a binding or safe forecast as to the corresponding future performance of the underlying asset to which the Binary Options refers.
